

Battle of Bataan: Abucay Line

On January 7th, 1942 Japan invaded the Philippines. Under orders from General MacArthur American troops and their allies retreated to a defensive line that stretched from Mt. Bataan to the China Sea. The American troops, although outnumbering Japan, were of mixed quality and had low morale. After three months of hard fighting and with American supplies dwindling, the line broke and thousands of American troops were forced to surrender.

6 VP's

2 victory metals are placed at the bottom of the American line. Japanese units who make it to the hexs between the metals count as a victory point and are moved to the Japanese players victory stand.

Card Balance:

Allies - 5

Axis - 6

For the Air Power card Japan will roll 2 dice and America will roll 1

Complexity:

2

Conditions:

Jungle

Context:

Historical

Location:

Year:

1942

Theater:

Pacific Theater

Campaign:

Codename:

Summary:

Requires base Memoir '44 and Pacific Theater Expansion. Imperial Japanese army command rules are in effect. Marine rules are in effect for units marked with the Marine emblem. Units marked with Chindits emblem are Philippino guerilla fighters and follow same rules as French resistance.

Objectives:

This is a six VP scenario, with Medal Objectives

Battlefield:

Jungle

Troops:

(There is no indication from the author of the troop deployments.)

Allies –

Axis –

Allied Strategy:

Axis Strategy:

Author:

Fan Creation

Link:

Please follow and like us:

 Follow